

Waltham Neurology Visit

My Hospital Story

Boston Children's Hospital

May 2017

Today I am going to Boston Children's Hospital in Waltham for a Neurology visit.

If we drive to the hospital, we will park in the parking garage.

Then we will walk toward the hospital.

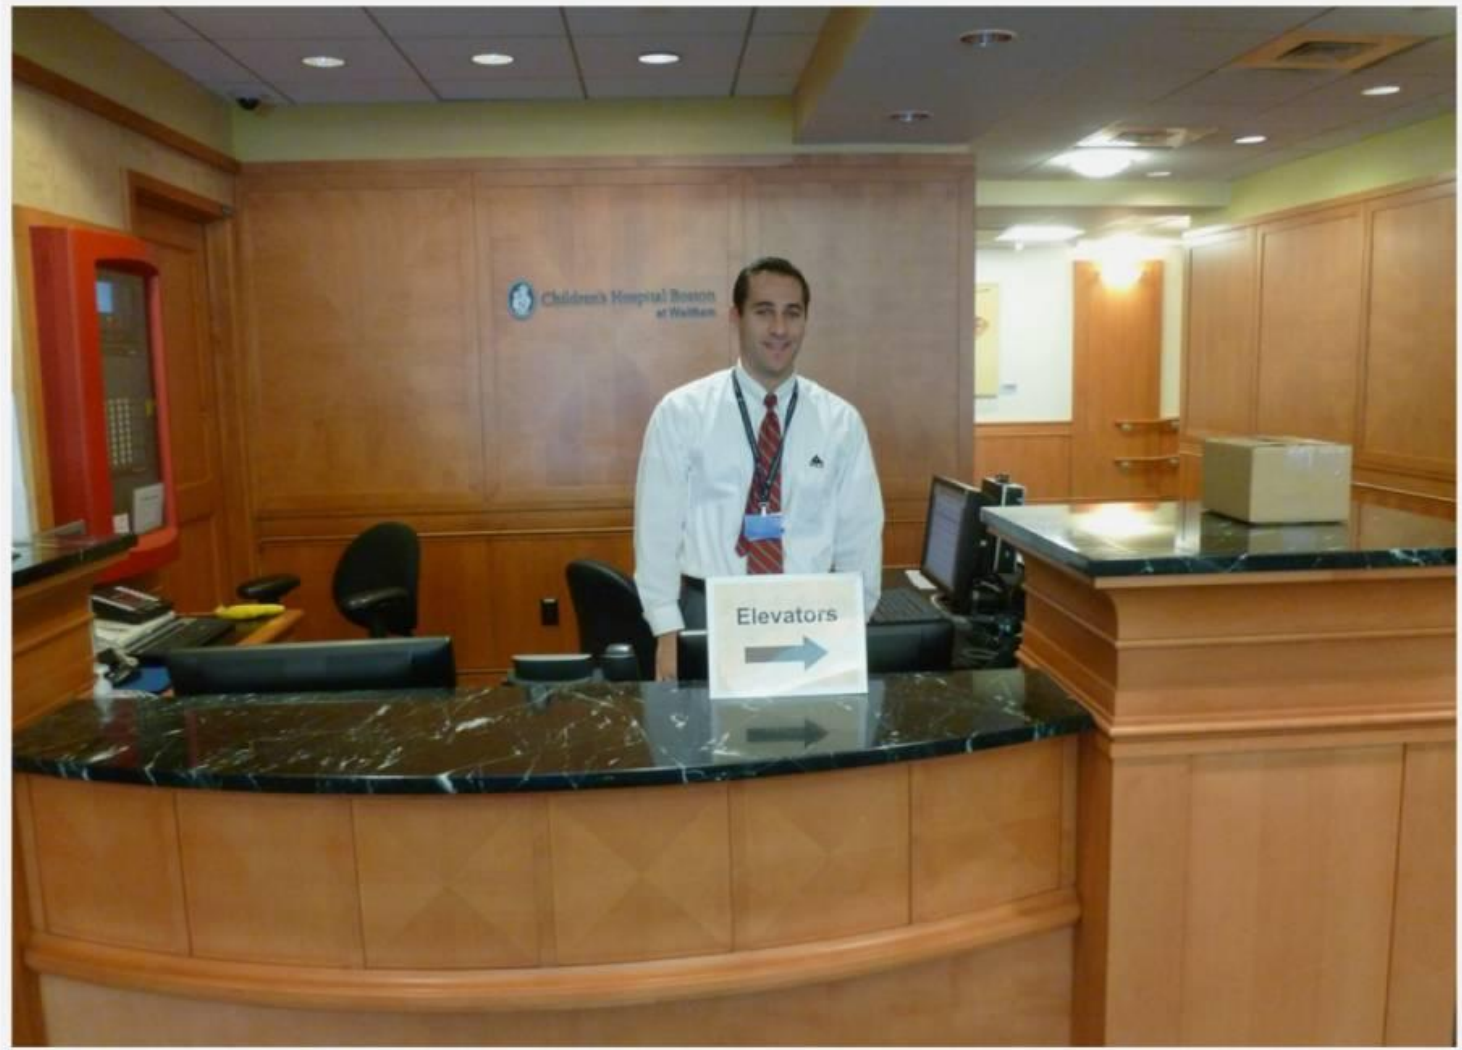

Next, we will walk in the front door.

As we walk into the lobby we may see pictures.

We will also walk past the front desk.

Next, we will walk up the stairs.

Then, we will walk down the hall.

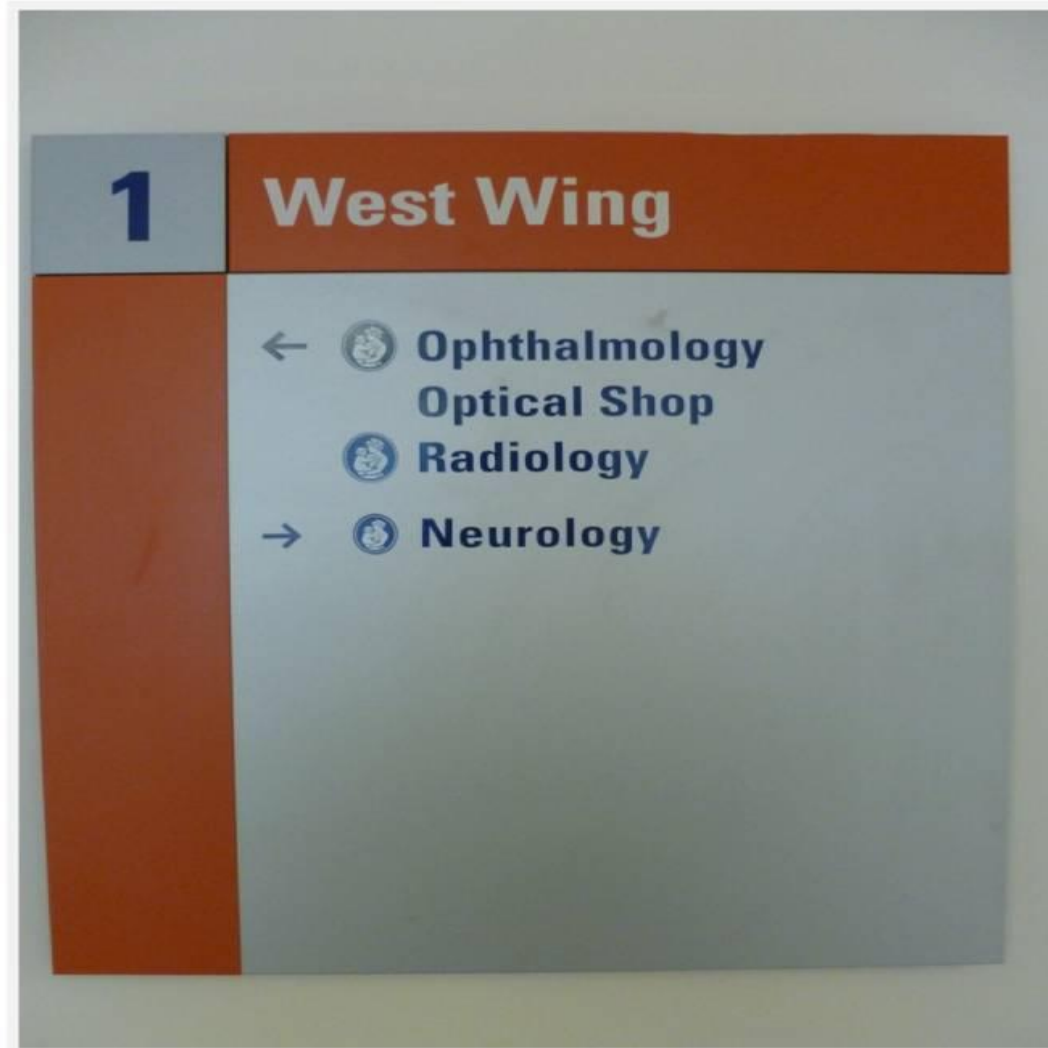

We will turn left at the “Neurology” sign.

Next, we will walk down the hall,
following the sign.

We will turn right at the sign that says “Neurology”.

Then, we will walk into the Neurology Department.

We will check in at the front desk. I will remember to wait nicely and keep my Next, we will wait until my name is called.

When my name is called I will walk to a new room.

Then the doctor or nurse may ask me to stand on the scale.

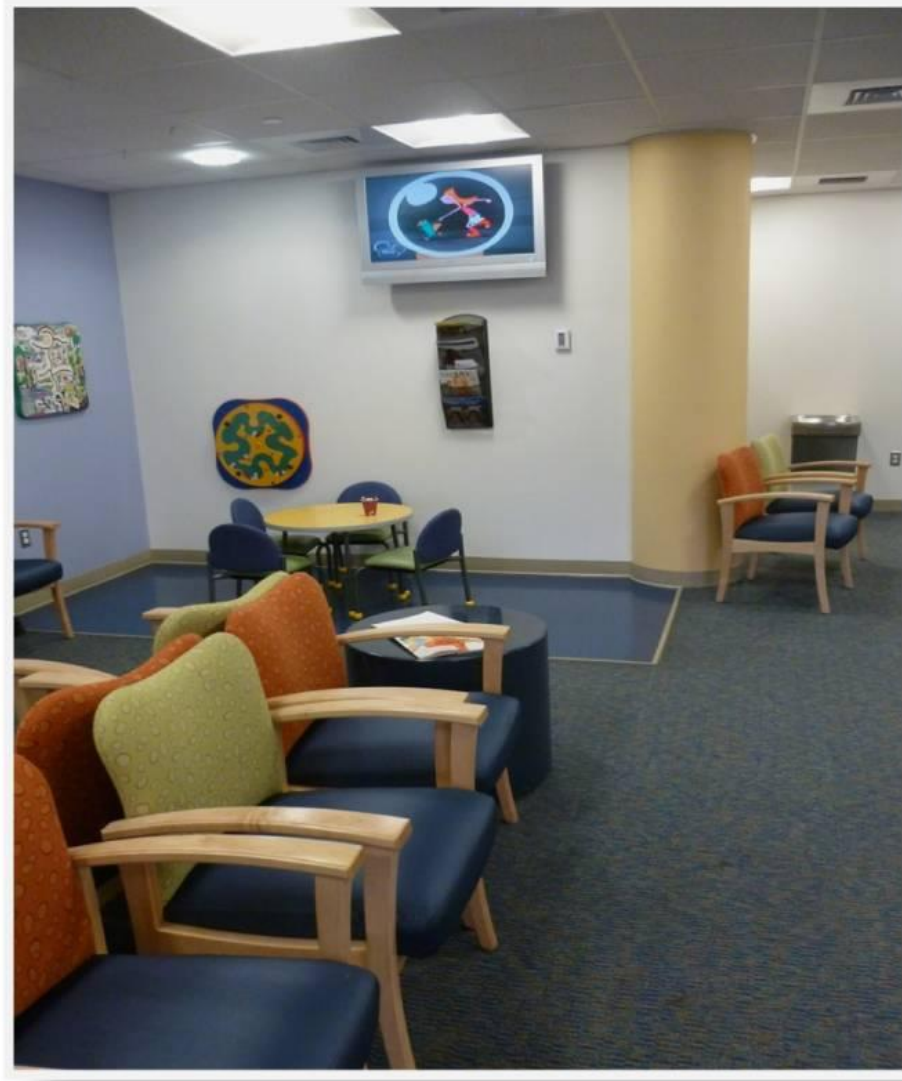

Next, the doctor or nurse may measure how tall I am.

The doctor or nurse may also measure my head.

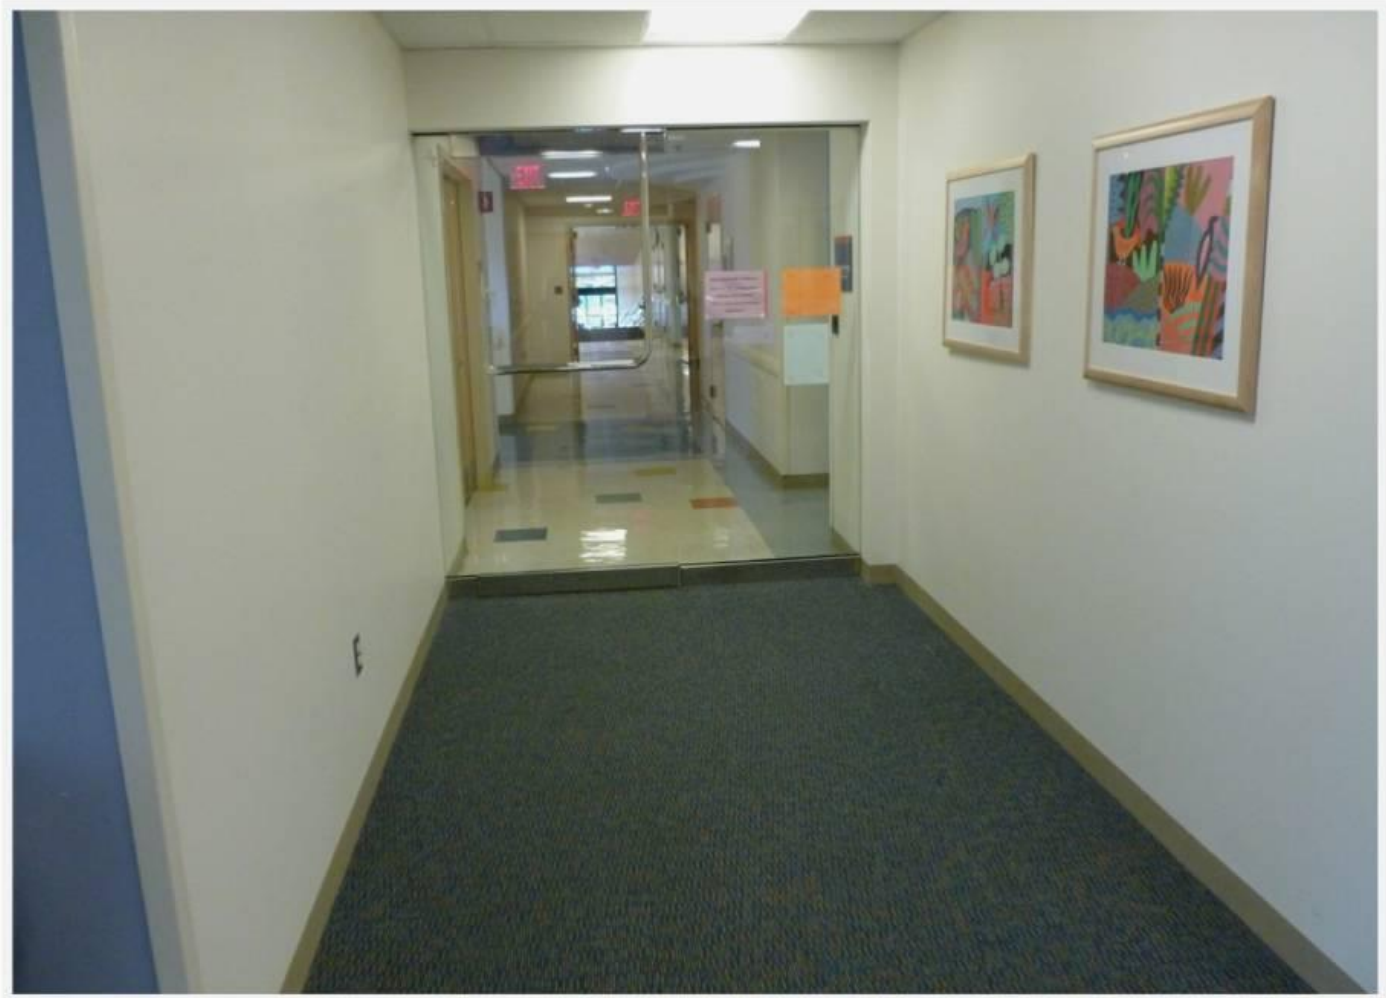

Then, I will wait until my name is called again.

Soon, the doctor will call me back to the exam room.

After my visit is over, I will say goodbye
and walk down the hall.
