The OFD works in collaboration with the:

Department of Education: Alan Leichtner, MD, MSHPEd, Chief Education Officer and Director

Office of Health Equity and Inclusion: Valerie Ward, MD, MPH, Chief Equity and Inclusion Officer and Medical Director
Vision & mission:  http://www.childrenshospital.org/about-us

For over 150 years, Boston Children's Hospital has maintained the same vision: to advance pediatric care worldwide. Our four-part mission is to:

- provide the highest quality of health care
- lead the way in research and discovery
- educate the next generation of leaders in health care
- enhance the health and well-being of the children and families in our local community

Together we make the BCH Way: http://web2.tch.harvard.edu/cultureworks/index.html

At Boston Children’s, we hold ourselves to the highest values of respect, inclusivity, teamwork and kindness to provide patients, families, and each other with an experience equal to the care we deliver.

RESPECT: We regularly express respect and appreciation for one another including each other’s abilities, qualities, feelings, experiences, needs, expertise, and efforts and regardless of our differences

INCLUSIVITY AND DIVERSITY: We actively include, support, engage, and appreciate each other regardless of our differences and that everyone has equitable and fair access to information, experience, and means of contribution regardless of our differences

TEAMWORK: We collaborate to achieve our mutual goals through open, respectful, honest communication and action and we work to achieve conflict resolution by connective rather than divisive means

KINDNESS: We are consistently alert to and supportive of the wellbeing, feelings, needs, efforts, contributions, and resources of each other
“If you want one year of prosperity, grow grain; if you want 10 years of prosperity, grow trees; and if you want 100 years of prosperity, grow people.”

Ancient Asian proverb

Dear Faculty,

It is with great pleasure that we welcome you to Boston Children’s Hospital. We are proud that our hospital has been a leader in child health for 150 years. As the primary pediatric teaching hospital of Harvard Medical School, we value our clinical, research, education, and community service missions and celebrate our new faculty who will continue to advance child health.

It is our hope that you will achieve a deep and abiding satisfaction in your careers, and be an integral part of our community. We look forward to contributing to your career development at Children’s by providing seminars, fellowships, resources, newsletters, mentorship models, and one-on-one meetings.

This booklet was written in the spring of 2021 during the COVID pandemic and the gradual reopening of hospital offices. In the past year, however, faculty, fellows, trainees, clinicians, teachers, researchers, and others have had to adjust to shuttered laboratories, financial challenges, closed clinics and virtual visits, cancellations of meetings and elective procedures, isolation, and loss. We realize that mentoring relationships have been disrupted in a time in which the magnitude and impact of COVID was just beginning to unfold. We are grateful for the extra care that our dedicated faculty have shown in meeting these challenges. At this point, the entire hospital community is evaluating strategies to move forward. We are also grateful for the efforts of our faculty and many others to address these challenges and dedicate this booklet to the first responders and BCH faculty, trainees, nurses, and staff. Sunnier days are certainly ahead.

The Office of Faculty Development strongly supports Boston Children’s efforts to promote social justice, inclusion and health equity. We plan to continue to actively collaborate with other BCH Offices and Departments, particularly the Office of Health Equity and Inclusion and the Department of Education, in these endeavors.

Office of Faculty Development Services
The Office of Faculty Development (OFD) at Boston Children’s Hospital (BCH) was founded in 2001 with the goals of recruiting and retaining the best faculty, facilitating career advancement and satisfaction, and increasing leadership opportunities, particularly for women and minorities. Our services over the past 19 years have focused on fostering the careers of faculty at Children’s Hospital, through career conferences, seminars, funded fellowships, mentoring models, a family and career network, library resources, a newsletter (Perspectives), a dedicated website and Twitter page, a teaching Academy, and one-on-one meetings with faculty.

Boston Children’s Hospital Mentoring Guidelines
The OFD in collaboration with our Advisory Committee and Department/Division/Program Chairs created the framework for the “Community of Mentors” program at Boston Children’s. The effort begins with an appointed mentor at the division or department level, and guides mentees to create their own mentor team with the support and advice of their own division or department senior faculty. The OFD helps faculty assess their needs and facilitate matches. The OFD has updated the mentoring booklets, Successful Mentoring for Junior Faculty and Strategies for Mentors, available on our website, to highlight the importance of “Developmental Networks,” a framework defined by Kathy Kram, Monica Higgins, David Thomas, and others. These networks which include one's Community of Mentors as well as colleagues, subordinates, mentees, family, and friends provide access to knowledge, opportunities, and resources across institutions and cultures.

Career Development Fellowships
Cosponsored by the Basic/Translational Research Executive Committee and the Clinical and Translational Research Executive Committee
Established in 2002, the Faculty Career Development Fellowships provide transitional funding to sustain research productivity and career growth during critical years. The faculty fellowships currently provide $50,000/yr for 2 years with departments/divisions/programs funding 25% of the award and overhead. In 2021, the Institutional Centers for Clinical and Translational Research (ICCTR) and Harvard Catalyst provided an additional $50,000 over 2 years for clinical research award recipients. These awards are intended to increase opportunities for junior faculty to advance to senior positions in academic medicine. Four of the thirteen 2021 awards are designated for junior faculty who belong to a racial/ethnic population underrepresented in medicine and science (UIM), OR who have family responsibilities such as being the primary caregiver for children and/or parents. The other nine are unrestricted.

Topics for Seminars: Note that all seminars and events were presented virtually (Zoom) after March 2020

OFD Twitter Page
In 2009 the OFD launched a Twitter page: twitter.com/BCHFacultyDev, with notes on OFD programs and online links to publications of interest to faculty to broaden our network and outreach. The site includes 203 followers, both internal and external.

Work-Family Programs
The OFD sponsors a seminar series for faculty balancing family life and a career in academic medicine and an annual outing for faculty and their families. In fall 2020 more than 25 attendees went apple picking. In addition, faculty peer support groups offer a comfortable environment for participants to share challenges and solutions in areas of career, family and personal development. Discussions on topics of interest such as "How and when to say Yes or No," led by Drs, Sara Forman and Marisa Brett-Fleegler are also scheduled. In addition, the OFD hosts a knitting group, “Making Science in Fiber Arts,” with faculty facilitator, Dr. Elissa Weitzman, for faculty, trainees, and staff, to discuss both science-related projects and worklife issues.

The Children's Hospital Library and the Career and Faculty Development Collection
The Library puts together special exhibits corresponding to OFD programs and observances such as “September is Women in Medicine and Science Month,” “Spring is Faculty Development Season,” “Black History Month,” etc. The Library, in conjunction with the OFD, also profiles a wellness display. The Career and Faculty Development Collection, located in the Children's Library, provides faculty with information on professional and personal development. Included are materials on scientific writing, grant preparation, presentations, teaching, communication, and mentoring strategies. The weekly Leadership LibGuide http://childrenshospital.libguides.com/leadership, includes resources such as business/healthcare management databases, TED talk videos on leadership, Harvard Business Review’s recommended reading on various leadership topics, links to useful associations, and selected health care reform resources.

Employee Lactation Support Program

Nursing Mothers’ Lounges – Lactation Rooms
Kimberly Barbas, RN, IBCLC – Director, Lactation Support Program, 617-355-0005, kimberly.barbas@childrens.harvard.edu

Lactation Rooms are available for employees who need to express breastmilk during work hours. These rooms have hospital-grade electric breast pumps (Medela Symphony) available for use and a sink for cleaning equipment. Electric breast pumps require the purchase of a Symphony breast pump kit for individual use. Use of these rooms is first-come/first-serve basis, and some rooms require a combination code for entry. The lock combinations to the employee lounges are available from the Hale Family Center for Families (5-6279), located in the Main Lobby, during their operating hours or from the lactation office (5-0005). Returning to work classes are held on the first Tuesday of the month from 1 - 2pm via Zoom (Sign up through Net Learning). This class is for employees returning to work and planning to continue breastfeeding and include an orientation to the breast pump. Email kimberly.barbas@childrens.harvard.edu for more information.

Ethics, Office of, and Ethics Advisory Committee

http://web2.tch.harvard.edu/ethics/

An Ethicist-on-Call can be reached 24/7 at beeper #3418, and the Office of Ethics can be reached at 5-6920 during regular business hours. The Office of Ethics and Ethics Advisory Committee (EAC) offer educational resources and services to support BCH clinicians, patients and families in dealing with ethical concerns about patient care. When there is uncertainty or disagreement involving values (for example, when people disagree about whether a particular course of care would benefit or harm a child), there is a range of ethics services that can be accessed by any individual, family or team. These include informal conversations to explore individual concerns, facilitation of clinical team meetings, and a more formal process of ethics consultation to help resolve differences among patients, families and teams. Ethics support may be requested at any time via the ethics on-call beeper or Office of Ethics, as noted above.

Periodic ethics rounds are offered on a number of units for case discussion and education. If you would like to be aware of rounds on units in which you work, or if you have a topic to suggest for rounds, please contact any of the ethics staff members: Clinical Ethicists: Kerri Kennedy, MA, RN (4-4437, beeper #5995, kerri.kennedy@childrens.harvard.edu), Jonathan M. Marron, MD, MPH (617-632-3453, beeper #6916, jonathan_marron@dfci.harvard.edu) and Lisa Taylor, JD, MS (4-6196, beeper #6333, lisa.taylor@childrens.harvard.edu).

Finally, the Ethics Advisory Committee often participates in the development or review of ethics-related policies for programs, departments or the hospital. If interested in this service, please be in touch with the EAC co-chairs.
Co-chairs of the Ethics Advisory Committee are Charlotte Harrison, PhD, JD, MPH, Hospital Ethicist and Director of the Office of Ethics (5-6920, beeper #3171, charlotte.harrison@childrens.harvard.edu) and David K. Urion, MD, FAAN, Charles F. Barlow Chair, Department of Neurology (5-7819, beeper #1409, david.urion@childrens.harvard.edu).

BCH staff may participate in many programs offered by the Center for Bioethics at Harvard Medical School. Christine Mitchell, RN, MS, MTS, FAAN, and Robert Truog, MD (also a BCH clinician), are the Executive Director and Faculty Director of the Center, which provides educational and research fellowships in medical ethics; several monthly case-based Harvard Ethics Consortia (focusing respectively on clinical ethics, biotechnology and research ethics, organizational ethics, and health policy); and extensive additional programming. The ICCTR is made up of five areas:

Biostatistics and Research Design (BARD)
BARD provides biostatistical and methodological expertise and scientific leadership through collaborative relationships with Boston Children's investigators. This Center's areas of expertise include pre-clinical experiments, clinical trials, observational studies (retrospective and prospective), longitudinal studies, randomized studies, health economics and econometrics, survey research, qualitative research and high-dimensional functional neuroimaging research.

Clinical Research Operations Center
The mission of the Clinical Research Operations Center (CROpC) at Boston Children’s is to provide exceptional support and service to investigators conducting interventional clinical research at Boston Children’s Hospital, with the goal of translating basic research findings into novel therapeutic and curative interventions. The Center supports a full spectrum of studies from high-risk interventional trials with experimental therapeutics, and experimental drugs and devices, to the minimal-risk observational clinical research studies.

Office of Investigator Outreach
The Office of Investigator Outreach serves as a single contact point to navigate research resources, educational offerings and career development opportunities at Boston Children’s as well as Harvard Catalyst. The goal is to help junior faculty to become successful and independently-funded clinical researchers.

Regulatory Support, Education, and Quality
ICCTR Office of Research Regulatory Support, Education, and Quality (ORRSEQ) serves as a resource for the clinical research community at Boston Children’s Hospital. The ORRSEQ staff provides investigator support and operational assistance for FDA-regulated studies and studies where the investigator serves as the sponsor.

Translational Research Program (TRP)
The mission of the TRP is to stimulate the development of non-clinical and human clinical trials that seek to improve the care of children with serious diseases. This Program provides support and funding mechanisms for faculty-initiated research projects, along with the infrastructure to get these projects done in a fast and efficient manner.

The Office for Clinical and Academic Affairs encompasses the Office for Faculty Affairs, the Office for Diversity Inclusion and Community Partnership, as well as the Office for Academic and Research Integrity. The mission of the Office for Clinical and Academic Affairs is to advance excellence in academic endeavors, ethical standards, and service by developing and nurturing a diverse and inclusive community.

The Office for Clinical and Academic Affairs supports the academic and clinical activities of HMS faculty with an emphasis on faculty development and diversity. Specifically, the Office:

- Coordinates the selection process for limited competition funding opportunities (i.e., HMS Foundation Funds): https://hms.harvard.edu/departments/office-clinical-academic-affairs/hms-foundation-funds
- Conducts clinical department reviews: https://hms.harvard.edu/departments/office-clinical-academic-affairs/clinical-department-review-program
- Maintains agreements with HMS-affiliated hospitals and research institutions: http://hms.harvard.edu/hms-affiliates.

- Serves as Dean’s Office liaison for most of the HMS initiatives, programs, centers and institutes: https://hms.harvard.edu/departments/office-clinical-academic-affairs/hms-initiatives-programs-centers-institutes

HMS Foundation Funds Program:
Contact: Clare Lamont at 617-432-7463 or clare_lamont@hms.harvard.edu

The HMS Foundation Funds Program administers the nomination process for HMS/HSDM faculty and postdocs for funding opportunities from private foundations that require candidates to be nominated by either Harvard Medical School or Harvard University. Each year, several foundations invite HMS/HSDM junior faculty members and postdocs to apply for their fellowships and grants, which serve as critical funding at the early stages of a research career. Interested investigators must first apply internally through the HMS Foundation Funds, and a committee will select the final candidates who will then submit applications to the foundations.

Clinical Department Review Program:
Contact: Sara Kiarsis at 617-432-7543 or sara_kiarsis@hms.harvard.edu

Started in 2000, the Clinical Department Review Program is a joint venture between Harvard Medical School and its affiliated hospitals to review the activities of clinical departments on approximately a five to eight-year cycle. The review is a constructive process that uses a broad-based perspective in evaluating departmental leadership and overall operation with a focus on key areas in clinical care, research, and education. Typically, three outside external reviewers are invited to serve on a committee that meets with the department leadership and its faculty over the course of two days to discuss the department’s activities. At the end of the review the committee delivers the results of their findings to the dean of HMS, the dean for Clinical and Academic Affairs, and the president/CEO of the hospital. Once the Committee has submitted the final written report, a meeting is set up with the head of the department, deans and hospital president/CEO to discuss the report and review the recommendations.

Each department is asked to prepare a comprehensive and detailed report of activities over the previous five-year period. The report also includes information on the faculty and on the teaching, research, and clinical programs of the department. Additionally, the department chair includes a strategic plan for the department. The report is shared with the external reviewers, deans and hospital president/CEO approximately one month prior to the review. Over 100 reviews have been conducted since the Program’s inception in 2000.

HMS Initiatives, Programs, Centers and Institutes ("Centers"):
Contact: Clare Lamont, Program Coordinator, clare_lamont@hms.harvard.edu

HMS “centers” are organizational structures created to facilitate interdisciplinary, interdepartmental, and inter-institutional collaboration for novel research and education activities.

The committee for oversight of HMS centers has developed transparent and supportable guidelines for the organization and governance of research and education involving interdisciplinary, interdepartmental and inter-institutional work. These guidelines are detailed in the Principles and Guidelines document available online at: https://hms.harvard.edu/departments/office-academic-clinical-affairs/hms-initiatives-programs-centers-institutes

Faculty Affairs, Office for
http://fa.hms.harvard.edu/
Grace Huang, MD – Dean for Faculty Affairs
The Office for Faculty Affairs (OFA) manages the promotions and appointments processes of the Faculty of Medicine. The Office works with committees that address faculty concerns and serve as a resource for issues related to recruitment, promotion and career development. In collaboration with hospital affiliates, the Office organizes an annual leadership course and awards program for junior faculty. To learn more about the program and offerings, please visit the website at https://fa.hms.harvard.edu/.

Promotion Criteria
Promotion and appointment criteria for the Faculty of Medicine recognize the broad range of faculty activities that support the academic mission. By allowing the sum total of each faculty member’s contributions and achievements to be considered in the evaluation for promotion, these criteria provide many different paths to academic advancement for our extraordinary faculty. The faculty handbook is available at https://fa.hms.harvard.edu/FoMhandbook; information on the Harvard CV, including guidelines and templates or faculty interested in requesting a 1:1 CV consultation can be found at https://fa.hms.harvard.edu/faculty-medicine-cv-guidelines. In addition, senior staff regularly host presentations on promotion criteria and CV guidelines virtually and on the HMS campus: https://fa.hms.harvard.edu/faculty-affairs-presentations.

Eleanor and Miles Shore Faculty Development Awards Program
The Eleanor and Miles Shore Faculty Development Awards Program (Shore Program) strives to support the Faculty of Medicine at the level of instructor and assistant professor by administering a range of award opportunities to support academic activities. Award funds are provided by HMS, HSDM, affiliated institutions, departments, divisions, centers, and/or private donors. The awards may be used for protected time from clinical, teaching or other responsibilities to pursue academic work, including research, or develop a new clinical or teaching program. Funds awarded can be used for additional laboratory assistance at a time when independent funding is not attainable. The award is not intended to provide total support.

In January, instructors and assistant professors are invited to apply for awards. In the fall, the selection process culminates in a reception, sponsored by the Shore Program, to honor recipients in the presence of deans, families, friends, mentors, and peers.

For more information on current award opportunities, including applicant eligibility, or for information on requirements to establish an award, please visit: https://fa.hms.harvard.edu/shore

The Boston Children’s Hospital OFD/BTREC/CTREC Faculty Career Development Fellowship is included in the Shore Program.

HMS/HSDM Leadership Development Course for Physicians and Scientists
Each spring, the Office for Faculty Affairs offers a three-day course designed for HMS and HSDM instructors, assistant professors, and associate professors who have responsibility for a research grant, laboratory, educational course, or clinical program. The goal of the course is to build on participants’ knowledge base and skills to enhance their professional development as administrative leaders in academic medicine. The curriculum focuses on human resource management, negotiation, finance, self-assessment, communications, and personal career development. Women and faculty who are underrepresented in medicine are particularly encouraged to apply.

The Office for Diversity Inclusion and Community Partnership (DICP) at Harvard Medical School
(HMS) was established to promote the increased recruitment, retention, and advancement of diverse faculty, particularly underrepresented minority (URM) faculty, at HMS and to oversee all diversity and inclusion activities involving HMS faculty, trainees, students, and staff.

DICP’s Minority Faculty Development Program offers programming for the development of HMS faculty, with an emphasis on mentoring and leadership, while responsive to the identified needs of individuals and institutions. It also sponsors programs that are designed to reach out to the precollege and college populations with the goal of bringing outstanding, URM, and disadvantaged students into the pipeline.

DICP’s research and evaluation arm, Converge: Building Inclusion in the Sciences through Research, conducts research that lead to national, regional, and local strategies that support workforce diversity and inclusion in the biomedical sciences. The Office also acts as a central resource for monitoring faculty development and diversity efforts of the Harvard Catalyst and Translational Science Center through its Program for Faculty Development and Diversity. In partnership with the Biomedical Science Careers Program, DICP offers programs aimed at providing the encouragement, support, and guidance needed for the successful pursuit of careers in biomedical sciences.
